Hello Dan,

You are very kind to jump in on this project, especially coming off such a lovely and long weekend. Thank you so much.

Our meeting is tomorrow and I have already been putting together a presentation for my fellow Commissioners and the audience. It would very helpful to have received your quotation by noon, if possible; regrettably, I have several meetings through the afternoon that will have me away from this work.

And thank you for your efforts to save us money by using the junior members there. I have hoped that this project could be done efficiently and cost-effectively and it (community survey) is truly needed.

I look forward to receiving your quotation, Dan, because we would like to work with you!

Thank you very much,
Allison
